Town Horses Go

On Block For $202

Horses apparently don't depreciate much, but sleighs and pungs—you can get them for about the price of a second-hand paper napkin. Five years ago the town bought a team of horses for $350; last Saturday they were sold for $202. Try getting that price with your automobile. But the sleighs and pungs—there was a sleigh that went for 50 cents, a pung that went for $2.10, one for $1.50 and one for ten cents—honest, just a dime. The cheapest item of all was a pipe feeder; the B. P. W. on last reports were seriously considering the suggestion that they transfer jurisdiction over the pipe feeder to the keeper of the public dump.

Cleveland Gilcreast, auctioneer, managed to bring the town a fairly tidy sum for the various equine accoutrements—hoss accessories, if you want it that way. The successful bidders were: Horse $122 and horse $80, Thomas McDonnell; pung 10 cents, pung $2.10, Philip Gaudet; pung $1.50, Chester Yeaton; grain box 50 cents, whiffle trees and spreader $3.00, Sidney P. White; double harness $50, breast plate 15 cents, hay tongs 25 cents, harness holders 25 cents and 25 cents, Chester D. Abbott; harness holders 30 cents and 25 cents, reins $3.10, Mr. Gaudet; tip carts $25, Mr. McDonnell, and same to P. W. Davis; double harness $20.50, saddle $7.75, horse drops 10 cents, horse collar $1.50, two rain covers at $7.50, grain chest $1.50; feed bags $75, George M. Carter.

School Children

To Present Operetta

The pupils of St. Augustine's school will present the operetta, "Magic Wishing Well" in the Memorial Auditorium Monday, May 22, at 8:00. The children are working under the direction of the Sisters of Notre Dame and Miss Constance Grace Natoli. Proceeds will be for the benefit of the school.

Lawrence Public

Safety Director

Expresses Thanks

A note from director of public safety Thomas F. Galvin of Lawrence was received by fire chief Emerson this week, thanking him and selectman Shepard for the assistance they provided at the recent South Congregational church fire in Lawrence.

The letter follows:

"May I take this opportunity to offer to you and Selectman Shepard my most sincere thanks and appreciation for your extreme kindness to our department at the So. Congregational Church fire on So. Broadway.

The loaning of your hose and the assistance of your men was a godsend to us at that time for which we were deeply grateful.

If, at any time the opportunity comes to reciprocate, we assure you that we stand ready at your call."

Schoolboy Patrolmen Leave For Washington

Headed for Washington at present are over 30 Andover boys, members of the schoolboy patrols. Officer David Gillespie accompanied the youngsters. North school: Loretta Toussaint, Bradlee: Josephine Coolidge, Henrietta Demboski.

Indian Ridge: Claire Darby, Barbara Munroe, Alice Beaulieu.

Miss Brown Retires As Librarian

After More Than Thirty Years' Service

Miss Miriam Putnam Of Newton Library Chosen To Succeed Her

The Trustees of the Memorial Hall Library announce that they have accepted with regret the resignation of Miss Edna A. Brown, Librarian, who retires after more than thirty years of service to the town.

Miss Brown came to Andover in 1906 from Providence, R. I. She had studied at Brown University and at the New York State Library School in Albany and had travelled extensively abroad. Her experience as librarian was gained in her own home state and in the Rosenberg Library in Galveston, Texas.

Miss Brown is responsible for the complete reorganization of the library with its open-shelves and modern loan system. Shortly after coming here, she re-catalogued the library and started the never-ending project of a balanced book collection. At all times she has kept in mind the delicate adjustment between a theoretical balance by subject and the actual reading needs of her public. Modern reference books were found necessary and were made readily accessible and instruction in their use was early given to High School Classes. Along with an increase in the hours that the Library was open, went systematic publicity through the bulletin board, book talks in schools and clubs and a carefully annotated list of new accessions, published in The Andover Townsman. The magazine collection was gradually enlarged, special privileges were granted to teachers and extended time was allowed to all borrowers for vacation reading.

Adventurers Elect

1939-40 Officers

The spirit of animation which pervaded the annual meeting of the Adventurers, held Monday evening in the Stowe School hall, promises well for the future of the organization.

Following the reports of secretary Marion MacDonald and business manager Roland Fraser, a motion was passed that the publicity committee should, in the near future, release a review of the club's activities for the year, as a gesture of appreciation for the public's generous support of and sustained interest in the dramatic presentations of the group. Recommendations for next season were made by several members. Joseph Doherty read the report of the nominating committee and these officers were elected for the 1939-1940 season: President, Charles Armitage; Vice-president, William Hughes; Secretary, Dorothy Winn; member of the executive committee for two years, Louise Hulme; member of the executive committee for one year, Geoffrey Nicoll.

A rising vote of thanks was accorded the retiring board—Mervin Stevens, Mildred Eaton, Marion MacDonald, Katherine Sawyer and Clifford Emmons.

Carl Gregg requested that all reservations for the annual dinner be in by Thursday of this week.

Purchasing Agent At Phillips Academy To Retire In June

At the close of the school year, V. D. Harrington, purchasing agent at Phillips Academy, will retire from active connection with the school. Mr. Harrington, a graduate of Bates College, came to Andover in 1905 as manager of the Academy dining hall, a position which he filled for twenty-five years. During his thirty-four year term of service he has acted in several capacities, as superintendent of grounds and buildings, as manager of the various eating places formerly a part of the school, and also as purchasing agent of supplies and equipment. From the days when the main school campus along the Elm Arch was mowed with a scythe once a year just before Commencement, down to the present time when large sums are spent yearly on the upkeep of the grounds, he has seen the school pass through various phases of development, changes in personnel and policy, and has been known and liked by two generations of Phillips Academy students.

With his family he previously occupied a house at the end of Chapel Avenue, near Rabbits Pond, which was torn down during the period when so much new building was being done by the Academy. Since that time he has lived at 17 Salem street.

After July 1st he will make his home in Rye, N. H., at Sea View Farm, which he has owned for several years, and which is not far from "The Harrington," the summer hotel which he owns and operates.

Square And Compass Bowlers' Banquet Friday, May 19

Sounds like a lot of fun to be had at the Square and Compass meeting, Friday, May 19. Lobster and steak will be served at the bowlers' banquet, and prizes will be awarded—not to the members who consume the most lobster, but to the ones who knock down the most pins.

At the meeting last Thursday night, Chief E. A. Eames of the Reading Fire Department spoke to the members on the changes in fire fighting equipment and methods. He accompanied his lecture with slides.

Abbot Academy Notes

Honorary Societies' Banquet

The annual banquet of the various honorary societies will be held tomorrow evening in Davis Hall with Q. E. D. acting as hostesses. The societies are as follows:

The Abbot Courant, founded in 1873 for the purpose of publishing semi-annually the school magazine; Marjory Hill, of Larchmont, New York, Editor-in-Chief.

Odeon, which, since 1905, has represented the literary interests of the school; Jeanne Waugh, of Andover, President.

Q. E. D., founded in 1920 chiefly as a debating society for promoting interest in the study of current events; Elizabeth Scanlan, of Maplewood, New Jersey, President.

Philomatheia, founded in 1924 to bring together those girls interested in science and to arouse among the student body a similar interest; Dorothy Heidrich, of Peoria, Illinois, President.

Abbot Dramatic Society, founded in 1924 by a group of girls who wished to further their dramatic interests and abilities; Audrey Rugg, of Newark, Ohio, President.

Les Beaux Arts, founded in 1925 by art enthusiasts; Constance Smith of Elmira, New York, President.

Aeolian, founded in 1927, by girls particularly interested in music; Mary Wodman, of Concord, New Hampshire, President.

"A" Society Picnic

On Saturday afternoon the "A" Society picnic will be held at Ipswich. Membership in this society is achieved through the winning of two hundred and fifty points in athletics. The following girls are members this year:

Marguerite Hall, President; Constance Smith, secretary-treasurer; Carolyn Fisher, Charlotte Skinner, Barbara Leland, Gisela Bolten, of Andover, Sally Cole, Carol Parker, Audrey Rugg, Elizabeth Scanlan, Doris Sawyer, of Andover.

Cum Laude Lecture

On Saturday evening the Cum Laude lecture will be delivered in Abbot Hall at 8:00 o'clock by Professor Max Lerner of Williams College. Friends who are interested will be welcome.

Abbot Vespers

On Sunday evening Dr. Sidney Lovett, chaplain of Yale University, will speak at the Abbot vespers service.

Punchard Students Select Annual Superlatives

Ethel Brierly was selected as the best girl student in the Punchard senior class annual ballot announced Tuesday. The best boy student honor went to Paul McDonald, football captain, who was also selected as the most promising boy. Gladys Downs was named the most promising girl.

Solveig Haakonsen was chosen as the girl who has done the most for the school and Douglas Howe as the boy who has done the most for the class. Solveig also was selected the best all around girl and Alfred White, baseball player now in the hospital with a broken leg, was named the best all-around boy. Doug Howe received other honors as follows: most popular, handsomest, and most respected. Alfred also was named best boy athlete and most versatile. And just to show that he too was versatile, Doug Howe was acclaimed the best dancer.

Agnes Martinson was selected as the prettiest girl, the most obliging girl and the most respected girl. Alice Bertram was chosen the most popular girl, and Theresa Burbine, named best girl athlete, also was tied with Ethel Cherowbrier for most versatile.

Other selections were: girls: Dorothy Randlett, best dressed and best mixer; Margaret Bogosian, class manhater; Anna Gill, wittiest; Dorothy Cederberg, neatest and most bashful; Evelyn Dow, most polite; Mildred Forsythe, class heartbreaker; Mary Hartmann, class giggler; Monica Coleman, best dancer and class flirt; Jeanne Wirtz, class singer; Marion Albers, class artist; Phyllis Henderson, dreamer; Ruth Anderson, peppiest and cutest; Helen Nicoll, happiest; Angie Dantos, most serious.

Boys: Donald Easdon, best dressed and neatest; Arthur Brindle, best mixer, Romeo, and most obliging; Fred Eastman, woman-hater and most serious; Thomas Burns, wittiest and most original; Harold Gordon, most polite; William Addison, class redhead; Robert Towne, Mexican athlete; Calvin Deyermund, noisiest and class cut-up; James Donahay, most bashful and dreamer; Frank Babicki, tallest; William Anderson, happiest.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bishop of Main street visited with friends in Fitchburg on Sunday.

V. F. W. Auxiliary Marks Birthday

Mrs. Walter Ebersbach, president of the Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary, presented Robert A. Stack, Commander of Andover post, with a check at the auxiliary's anniversary supper Saturday evening. The Veterans were invited to attend and eight of the past commanders spoke a few words upon being presented with past commanders' buttons. James J. Dugan, John M. Erving, Harold S. Cates, William J. Snyder, Alexander Blamire, Robert V. Deyermund, Edward S. Dodge and Frank R. Petty were the commanders who received buttons from Mrs. Ebersbach in behalf of the auxiliary.

Other short speeches were made by: Mrs. Alexander Blamire, Mrs.

William G. Martin, Mrs. Paul Simeone, Mrs. Peter D. Quinn, Mrs. Herbert Kent and Mrs. John Dowd, past presidents of the auxiliary; Mrs. Thomas W. Platt, gold star mother; Selectman J. Everett Collins and Arthur W. Cole.

Community singing and dancing followed the program.

A. P. C. TO HONOR MOTHERS TONIGHT

The date set for the annual Mother and Daughter banquet of the South church is this evening. The A. P. C. Sorority, which sponsors the event, hopes this year to make the occasion a gay and happy one by inaugurating a new scheme. Florence Gates, in charge of the program, calls it a "Come and Bring It" party. Come—in picnic clothes and real picnic mood. Bring—a basket lunch and twenty-five cents. When the supper hour arrives, at 6:30, Mildred Holt will dispense coffee and milk at the kitchen door. Marion Hill is planning decorations and a display of picnic equipment and gadgets. Mabel Marshall and Caroline Burrill will lead the after supper harmonizing, and Florence Gates will direct the varied program, designed to provide a happy social hour for everybody.

The twenty-five cents usually charged for the catered supper will this year be donated to the renovation fund. Thus another opportunity will be provided for those affiliated with the South church to share in the happy prospect of a redecorated place of worship.

95 degrees in the shade yesterday afternoon!

Joseph A. Smart's house, Main street, was raised on Tuesday and—so far as we know—without any of the traditional accompaniments of an old-fashioned "raisin."

A letter has been received from Rev. F. A. Wilson, Billerica, accepting the call to the pastorate of the Free church.

J. H. Campion and Co. are to occupy the room in Carter's block recently vacated by Lyle. O'Connell brothers are making some changes there, including a room for ripening bananas.

The Assessors have begun their gracious and popular work of telling the inhabitants of the town how much they are worth. Selectman Stark with characteristic promptness and energy has not only begun but finished his visitations.

One hundred and twenty-three dogs have paid their taxes thus far. What a happy town Andover is for dogs. At Norwood, the selectmen have ordered all dogs to stay at home for sixty days on account of a case of rabies in the town.

Twenty-five Years Ago

William D. Currier has purchased an Overland, five passenger, touring car.

Miss Bessie P. Goldsmith spent a few days last week visiting in Springfield, Mass.

Everett Collins played his first game with the Manchester-by-the-Sea baseball team last Saturday, making a fine impression. He caught a star game and made four hits out of five times at the bat.

William Shaw is having his house thoroughly overhauled and repaired.

Ten Years Ago

Walter E. Howe, head of the Music department of Abbot, will play in Saint Thomas's church, New York. He has been requested to play his composition, "Dedicace" which recently received the prize awarded by the National Association of Organists.

Miss Anna M. Harnedy of Summer street was appointed Tuesday night by the school committee to succeed Miss Genevieve McNally as principal of the Shawsheen school.

Mrs. Thomas Dea has returned to her home on Summer street after spending a week with friends in Holden.

A new traffic signal has been placed this week at the corner of Main and Morton street indicating that cars entering Main street from the east are to come to a full stop.

Edward Emelle, Jr., Elwyn Russell, Margaret Reilly, Josephine Hurley and Hazel Polgreen were elected to have charge of the Class Day exercises at Punchard.

Male Choir Sings In Melrose Concert

The Andover Male Choir was enthusiastically encored at the concert in the Melrose Memorial auditorium last Thursday night when they were invited to sing with the Amphion club's third concert of their forty-seventh season. The Andover choir sang a group of three numbers and an encore.

The program: "Laudamus," Owen; "Waft Her, Angels," Handel; "Hear My Prayer, O God," Kopyloff; "Lift Thine Eyes," Logan; "Stout Hearted Men," Romberg; "Old Mother Hubbard," Hely-Hutchinson; "Marie," Franz; "God Bless America," Berlin; "On Wings of Song," Mendelssohn; "Open Our Eyes," Macfarland; "Doctor Foster, Hughes; "Dear Land of Home," Sibelius; "Visions," Sjoberg-Balogh; "Rock of Ages," Buck; "The Lost Chord," Sullivan.

Francisco Zecchino, violinist, accompanied by Carl Lamson who accompanies Kreisler, played several selections on a violin at one time used by Kreisler.

Obituaries

Mrs. Clara Johnson

The funeral of Mrs. Clara (Preston) Johnson, who died Saturday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Michael J. Lane of 2 William street, was held Monday afternoon with prayers at the house at 1:30 o'clock, followed by services at 2 o'clock at Grace church, Lawrence. Rev. Archie H. Crowley conducted the services. Fred E. Jones, organist, played appropriate music. Burial was in the family lot in Bellevue cemetery.

Besides Mrs. Lane, Mrs. Johnson leaves another daughter, Mrs. Leonard Tordoff of Quincy; a son, Herbert Preston of Columbus, Ohio; and a grandson, Leonard of Columbus, Ohio.

Thomas Connolly

A high mass of requiem for the late Thomas Connolly of Punchard avenue who died Sunday night after a brief illness, was held yesterday morning at St. Augustine's church.

Mr. Connolly was born in England and had been residing in this town for the past 32 years. He was employed by the Shawsheen mill as an overseer in the carding department. He was a member of Andover council, K. of C., the Holy Name society of St. Augustine's church and Shawsheen Mill Overseers' association.

He is survived by his wife, Monica (O'Brien) Connolly; three daughters, Marion, Florence and Eleanor; four sons, Thomas, George, Edmund and Augustine; two brothers, Frank Connolly of Andover and Joseph Connolly of Flint; three sisters, Anna Connolly, Mrs. Elizabeth White and Mrs. Alice Greenwood.

Burial was in St. Augustine's cemetery.

Mrs. Vinton C. Johnson

Mrs. Frances Isabel (Lamont) Johnson, wife of Vinton C. Johnson of White Plains, N. Y., passed away yesterday morning at a New York hospital following an operation from which unexpected complications developed. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Lamont of 25 Lowell street.

Mrs. Johnson attended Bradford academy at Bradford and later Knox college in Illinois. She was married to Mr. Johnson on September 10, 1930.

She leaves, in addition to her parents and her husband, two children, Colin Lamont Johnson and Harriet Ann Johnson; and a brother, Walter M. Lamont, Jr., of New York City.

George R. Grover

Funeral services were held in Christ church Monday afternoon for George R. Grover, who passed away last Friday night at his home, 7 Harding street, following a long illness. Rev. Albert C. Morris conducted the services, with the boys' choir rendering a number of hymns. John D. Newall was at the organ. At the interment in West Parish cemetery, Rev. Mr. Morris conducted brief services which were followed by a service conducted by members of William B. Gale lodge, Knights of Pythias, of which Mr. Grover was a past chancellor commander.

Born in Malden August 31, 1887, the son of Joseph Grover and Ida Durning, Mr. Grover moved to this section about 30 years ago and had lived in Andover for the past 25 years. Up to five years ago when illness forced him to give up his duties, he had been employed for over a quarter of a century by the Boston and Maine railroad.

He leaves his wife, Margaret; a daughter, Ida M., teacher in the Junior High school; two sons, Elmer J., Townsman publisher, and Melvin G. of New York City; a sister, Mrs. James Carr of Arlington Heights; two grandchildren, Anne Marie and George Robert Grover, 2nd.

The bearers, all members of William B. Gale lodge, were John Bartlett, Jonathan Hilton, John Painter, Harry M. Palmer, George P. Fielden and Howard Hodgkins.

James Holden

The funeral of James Holden was held Thursday afternoon at Lundgren's funeral parlors, Rev. Mr. Noss of the South church officiating.

Mr. Holden was born in Jericho, Lancashire, England in 1861. Coming to this country as a young man, he was married at Providence, R. I., in 1889, later moving to Lynn, then to Andover, where he had lived for 43 years. His last seven years were spent in retirement, and he had looked forward to the celebration of his fiftieth wedding anniversary next December.

He is survived by his wife, Emma (Hadfield); a brother Walker; a sister, Mrs. David Youle, all of Andover; a brother John in England; a son William of Malden, a daughter, Mrs. Eugene L. Philbrick of Concord, N. H., five grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

The pall bearers were his four grandsons, his son-in-law and Jesse Billington.

Interment was in the family lot at Springdale cemetery.

Education and Religion

A few weeks ago past national commander Daniel Doherty of the American Legion spoke here in Andover on the present international unrest, his main theme being that a return to a belief in and exemplification of Christian doctrines and principles is the only solution to the problem. Smart diplomacy, with concessions here and there, may avert world chaos for a while this time, but unless something fundamental is done, until people begin thinking as they should toward each other, we will be always on the brink of war somewhere.

Mr. Doherty felt that one way of returning to these Christian doctrines was through education, a field which in its so-called higher range has done much to destroy these beliefs partly because some of the erudite pedagogues and some of the students at that particular age feel so omniscient that they can't feel that it would be possible for anybody to have ever been omniscient. In this connection a plan that the local clergymen have been considering for about a year now is very interesting. It is their feeling that the religious side of education has been lacking in our schools, and they would like to fill this gap by providing their own services for the public schools.

The plan would naturally run into some Constitutional difficulties, for in its attempt to provide freedom of worship the state Constitution provides that no state money shall be used for religious education. A straight Bible course, from a literary angle, without any given interpretation, would of course be Constitutionally all right, but it is difficult to give such a course since a man naturally in explaining things must explain them his way. But the plan as we understand it at present would avoid these Constitutional pitfalls by having the children dismissed a little early one day a week to go to the church which their parents have signified that they want them to go to. Then the clergyman could provide the religious side of education without having any state money spent on religious education and without impairing anyone's right to worship as he sees fit. Those who cared to go to no church would stay at school and study something else, of course.

Education in this country was really built on religion, but today in most cases they are very much separate. But they shouldn't be. Religious principles are just as fundamental and far more important than even the three R's. It's far better to not even know what two and two make than to go through life without the type of character that comes from understanding of the principles on which Christianity was founded.

Miss Carol Holmelund of Hartford, Conn., spent the past week with her friend, Miss Marjorie Crosby of Allen court.

Siftings

Just because the former Prince of Wales got married is no reason why he should keep silent—in public, anyway.

Personally we think that if some of these schoolboy patrolmen now down in Washington would stay there and send the Congressmen home, the country might be better off.

Some say Russia will be for Great Britain and France; others say it will be for Germany and Italy. The only safe conclusion is that Russia is very much looking out for Russia.

Townsmania

It really does pay to advertise. You probably saw in last week's classified section the following ad:

LOST—Milano pipe. Sentimentally endeared to owner. Of no possible use to anyone else except for city (or town) fumigator. For safe return owner will either pay substantial reward or promise not to smoke same for period of time upward to one year. Write Box R. D., Townsman office.

The paper was not out an hour before the following answer was delivered to the office:

R. D.
Andover Townsman
Andover, Mass.

Dear Sir:

I saw your ad on a lost pipe in today's Townsman. I haven't found it, but will you tell me how you lost it? My husband has ten of them, and he's scintidementally endeared to all of them.

Signed: T. D.

Male Choir Goes To Contest Saturday

Andover's Male Choir goes south Saturday morning, as far as New Haven, and on Sunday morning they will arrive back in Andover about three o'clock with the grand prize, we hope.

Two bus-loads will leave Andover at 7 Saturday morning arriving in New Haven about noon. There will be 74 in the buses, including 51 members of the choir, the rest of the 74 being lady guests.

The contest will be held at 1 and the concert at 8:15, with a banquet at the Taft at 6. From 8:15 to 9:00 the concert will be broadcast over the Yankee network.

Miss Buchan of the Townsman staff will journey to New Haven to cover the contest and concert.

REBEKAHS' ANNIVERSARY

The 35th anniversary of the local Rebekah lodge will be held Friday evening in Fraternal Hall. A supper, entertainment and dance will be features. Representatives of the Rebekah assembly will be present.

Andover League Members To Attend State Convention

The 19th Annual Convention of the League of Women Voters will be held at the Hotel Stonehaven, Springfield, on May 16-17.

Election of officers and directors and the adoption of the league program of work for 1939-40 will be the chief business.

At the luncheon on Tuesday Dr. Herman Cooper, Assistant Commissioner of New York State Department of Education, will speak on "The State's Responsibility for Teacher Training."

On that evening two distinguished guests will address the delegates. Peter H. Odegard, Professor of Political Science at Amherst College will speak on "How Stand Our Liberties"; and Mrs. George Gellhorn of St. Louis, Mo., takes for her topic "Making Democracy Work."

Wednesday's election will be conducted with the use of an automatic voting machine.

The Andover League will be represented by Mrs. Harold Rafton, Mrs. Frederick Butler, Miss Helen Chickering, Mrs. Peter Cunningham, Mrs. Hart D. Leavitt, Mrs. S. A. Lindsay, Mrs. John Little, Mrs. Horace Poynter, Mrs. Henry Tyer, and Mrs. Charles Warden.

Assistant Postmaster Frank S. McDonald has been ill at his home the past few days.

HELPING HAND ELECTS

Mrs. Edmund Dunwoody has been elected president of the Helping Hand society of the Free church, with Mrs. Hugh McLay being named vice-president, Mrs. George Nicoll, secretary, and Mrs. Alexander MacKenzie, treasurer. A cake sale is to be held by the society on May 26.

ISSUES APPEAL FOR CLOTHING FOR FIRE VICTIMS

Arthur W. Cole, local relief agent issued an appeal at the Ballardvale fire early this morning for clothing for the Nicoll family which lost its home and belongings. The Red Cross chapter is aiding in this endeavor. Clothing may be left at Mr. Cole's office in the Town House. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Nicoli there are nine children.

Mrs. Gagne Renamed Village P. T. A. Head

Mrs. Joseph T. Gagne was re-elected president of the Shawsheen Village Parent-Teacher Association held Wednesday evening in the school hall. Other officers elected were: First Vice-President, Carleton E. Shulze; Second Vice-President, Jeremiah O'Connor; Recording Secretary, Mrs. L. C. Conner; Treasurer, Harold G. Bowen; Directors: Miss Ethel Anderson, Mrs. Thomas Abbott, and Alexander Campbell. The nominating committee was: Mrs. Willis G. Symonds, Mrs. Nowell Kinney, Albert J. Malley.

Community singing was led by Joseph Mulvey with Mr. Christison at the piano. Following a discussion of the distribution of movie tickets to school children and changing the children's annual entertainment to a Friday night, cards and Chinese checkers were enjoyed, with Mrs. Leslie Christison in charge.

Miss Anderson's and Miss Leary's room tied for the banner, and each will receive a book. Refreshments were served by all the room mothers. The first fall meeting will be in October.

PAST PRESIDENTS' MEET

The Past Presidents' club, Corps 127, met Tuesday night with Mrs. John Ralph of Chestnut street as hostess. Plans were made for a June outing to be held at the home of Mrs. Nuckley, a past president, in Vermont.

Cards followed the business meeting, and prizes were awarded. Dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Ralph and Miss Sadie Hobbs.

WOMAN'S GUILD ANNUAL MEETING

There will be a communion service for members of the Christ church Woman's Guild and the presentation of the Book of Remembrance in the church next Thursday at 12 o'clock. Luncheon will follow in the parish house at 1, and at two the annual meeting will be held. Those desiring to attend should notify Mrs. Ralph Berry, telephone 611-W, not later than Monday.

Gifts for Mother

What would she like? There are many ways of expressing admiration for your favorite person on Sunday, but the perfect gift is the one that shows the most thought and consideration for her preferences.

Make Sunday a real day of rest for her and take her to FieldStones for a delicious dinner or buffet supper. Being waited on is a treat for every mother, and at FieldStones the excellent service heightens the pervading air of distinction.

In the gift shop, such indispensable work-savers as paper guest towels and napkins are so attractively designed with colored edges and neat monograms that they rival linen in beauty as well as in usefulness. As a gift they suggest freedom from wash days during the summer months. Handkerchiefs, delicately embroidered, and unusual bells of all shapes and sizes offer the pleasant prospect of allowing "mother" to pick out her own.

Is she interested in antiques? The Peabody Book Shop has an extensive line of books on the subject; some that can be used as reference books on furniture, rugs and old pewter, copper and Sheffield plate, and others that read as interestingly as a novel, such as "Homes Of Our Ancestors." These beautiful books are sold at unusually low prices and make an ideal gift for a collector.

"Madame Curie" and "The Arts" are still reduced to $1.49 and $1.98 and according to recent sales returns, the mothers are very much interested. Of the novels, "The Middle Window" by Elizabeth Goudge is one of the most fascinating stories of the year. Set in a draughty Scottish manor, it uses as its theme a human relationship so strong that it can survive the passage of centuries.

The happiness of your family group will be augmented on Sunday, if you have the secure feeling of protection that adequate insurance provides. A visit to the Doherty Brothers' office in the Musgrove building will establish that security. Insure and be sure is a policy of financial soundness for the future.

Please mother with something different. Bob's Bakery suggests a beautifully decorated cake that tastes as delicious as it looks. The special favorite is a layer cake iced with pale chocolate butter cream, with colored rosebuds and lettering and toasted cocoanut. If you do not think it is sentimental enough, wait until you see her eyes when she realizes it was made specially for her.

A gift that lasts is a continual reminder of your affection. Jewelry is always an appreciated gift and when it includes the name of a reliable jeweler, its value is priceless. John H. Grecoe is featuring some lovely cameos that are priced as low as $2.00, and his pearls range from $1.50 to $5.00. Beautifully matched, they are flattering with any gown and a real joy to the proud possessor.

A scarf, bright summer accessories, or some sheer Gordon hosiery wrapped in attractive Mother's Day boxes will help her to look particularly lovely on her day. Miss Beene has chosen some lovely blouses in flattering shades of soft blues, maize and cyclamen for gift suggestions.

Or if she is the sporty type, now would be a good time to take advantage of the 10 per cent reduction in all spring jackets. They come in plaids, stripes, and tweeds.

For the mother with the sweet tooth, Sally's Food Shop has a variety of fancy boxes that appropriately express the sentiment of the giver. Sally's candies, made right on the premises, make a gift of good taste. Add a matching box of freshly roasted nuts, assorted or her favorite kind, and her appreciation will be sweeter than the gift.

Thoughtfulness will make her feel younger and in one of the printed sheers from the Harborn Shop you will be more proud of her than ever. Cool and slenderizing, these dresses are just the thing for this sudden warm weather, and with matching accessories, they are dressy enough for any informal occasion. Sizes are from misses to 46 and there are some selected models as large as 52.

When planning your mother's Day, don't forget her enjoyment of roast duck which means, of course, Roughwood Cabin. If a family dinner at home is preferable, then order a stuffed roast duckling tomorrow and get it freshly cooked on Sunday with a generous supply of steaming gravy. She will have all the fun of having her family about her and none of the work that goes with preparing a large dinner. The only possible complaint against such a gift is that there are only two crispy legs to a duck.

Moths are a nuisance! When one pays a visit to your house, he invites his friends and they move in for the summer. Why not relieve "mother" of a lot of moth-chasing by phoning 1319 and have the X-L delivery man collect all your furs and winter clothing for cleaning and cold storage. It's the most economical way to provide your furs with a long life.

Many thanks to the "mothers" who made it possible for so many of the schoolboy patrol members to leave for Washington yesterday. By means of sales of all kinds, a few people raised a lot of money in a short time so that many of the small patrolmen could have a capitol time. With the help of their mothers and the contributions of the organizations, and with Officer Gillespie as their escort, there is no doubt but that the boys will fare well.

SUNDAY SCHOL CONFERENCE

Rev. Donald H. Savage will speak on "How To Teach the Epistles" at the next Sunday school conference at the Baptist church next Wednesday evening. After the lecture, Rev. Newman Matthews will conduct a Professor Quiz contest.

The large 1928 Packard that has been owned and occasionally operated by various members of the Daly family on Chestnut, left town last Sunday for its new residence in Lynn. For the last two years it has been kept more or less as a relic, gaining value by its antiquity, but Sunday night it barged out of town with regained youth.

COOKIE WINNER

Miss Constance O'Connor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo O'Connor of Highland road, will enjoy a week at the Girl Scout camp at Poms pond this summer as a reward for winning the Scout cookie selling contest for two consecutive years.

Weddings

Bourdelsais-DeRoche

At a pretty informal ceremony in the Sacred Heart church in Lawrence, Miss Eleanor DeRoche, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John DeRoche of Bourque street, Lawrence, became the bride of Arthur Bourdelsais, son of Mr. and Mrs. Octave Bourdelsais, Jr. of Chandler road.

The bride wore a traveling suit of rose contrasted by light blue accessories and carried a prayer book with a marker of sweet peas. Her sister, Marguerite DeRoche, was the maid of honor and wore a powder blue suit with rose accessories. She wore a corsage of gardenias and pink roses. Francis Riley was the best man.

A reception followed the ceremony at the bride's parents' home. After the wedding trip, the couple will reside at 400 Andover street, Lawrence.

Katherine Roth Wed

In Dutch West Indies

Miss Katherine Roth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence V. Roth of Hamilton, N. Y., formerly of Andover, became the bride of Wallace Ludwig Lind, Jr., son of Captain Wallace Ludwig Lind, U. S. N. and Mrs. Lind of Washington, D. C., at a ceremony Tuesday morning in Oranjestadt, Aruba, Netherlands West Indies.

The bride wore a simple pale blue linen dress and leghorn hat, and carried a bouquet of sweet-heart roses and blue daisies. The service was performed by the Governor of Aruba in the Dutch language. After the civil marriage a double ring service followed, conducted under an arch of white gardenias by the Episcopal Rector of the Island.

Mrs. MacGregor Brown was matron of honor, and the bride's brother, Morrison Brigham Roth, was the best man.

While the ceremony was being held, Father Samuel Burhans read the marriage service for the bride's parents and her grandmother, Mrs. Albert Perry Brigham, in the St. Thomas Protestant Episcopal church, Hamilton, N. Y.

The couple will reside in Aruba where Mr. Lind is employed.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

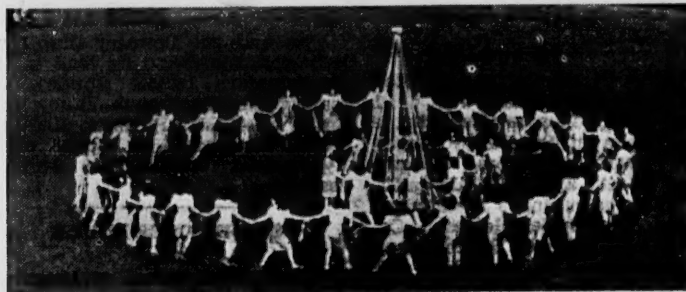

Forrest J. McNary, 174 Lowell street, and Virginia J. Ramsay, 174 Lowell street.

The annual meeting and banquet of the North Andover Woman's club was held Monday night at the Andover Country club. About 100 Mrs. Dora O'Hara of Andover street is giving a garden party this afternoon for some friends from Melrose.

Mrs. Bernard Sweeney of Florence street attended a beauticians' convention in New York City recently.

Mrs. V. D. Harrington has returned from Rye North Beach, N. H. where she spent a week at her summer home, Sea View Farm. Miss Robina Mitchell of Punchard avenue was her guest.

Mother And Daughter Elected To Lead Lawrence, Shawsheen Woman's Clubs

The Woman's clubs of Lawrence and Shawsheen Village will have something very much in common this coming year. On Monday night Mrs. William W. Kurth of Abbotfoyle was re-elected president of the Shawsheen Village Woman's club, and on Tuesday afternoon, her mother, Mrs. Andrew B. Sutherland, was named president of the Lawrence Woman's club.

Other officers elected in Shawsheen were as follows: First Vice President, Mrs. Frederick C. Smith; Second Vice President, Mrs. Joseph T. Gagne; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Edward R. Lawson; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Percy Nutton; Treasurer, Mrs. H. Garrison Holt; Directors for two years: Mrs. Edward Carey and Mrs. Arthur Jackson. Mrs. Walter F. Lillis of Wolcott avenue was named auditor of the Lawrence Club.

Mrs. Kurth presided over the business meeting, and introduced Virginia Drew, Graphologist, who entertained with her analysis of hand writing. The Club chorus provided the music and assisted in community singing, with Mrs. Frederick C. Smith as pianist and conductor. The hit of the evening, the one-act play, "He Ain't Done Right by Nell," was given by the members of the Dramatic Committee. The melodramatic acting of the players delighted the audience. The stage setting was faithful to detail, even to the genuine pot-bellied stove.

The cast of characters was as follows: Nell Perkins, an old-fashioned heroine, Pauline Field; Granny Perkins, who carries a secret for years, Carolyn Burt; Laura Wilkins, a typical old maid; Gertrude Kefferstan; Vera Carleton, from the city, Leona Mulvey; Burkett Carleton, her father, who owns the old mill, Harriet Chase; Hilton Hays, a wolf in sheep's clothing, Maude Bramley; Jack Logan, our manly hero, Alice Thompson.

Campus News

Miss Eleanor Sulis of Medford, formerly of Arundel street, is taking part in the production of Sophie Kerr's play, "They're None of Them Perfect" to be presented at Nasson College soon. Miss Sulis will graduate in June.

Miss Mary Angus of Main street attended the May basket supper given by the alumnae members of the Pi Lambda Theta sorority of Boston University in Boston recently. Miss Angus is treasurer of the alumnae chapter.

Recent notice from Waterville, Maine, informs us that Priscilla Kent of Chi Omega sorority at Colby.

Miss Faith Kenniston Peterkin was recently awarded the M. P. Sears and F. Z. Gilbert Fellowship for study in creative writing at Radcliffe.

Alice E. Carmichael of 9 Burnham road will graduate from the Boston school of Dental Nursing Monday evening at the Sheraton Hotel.

Miss Ruth Armitage of Haverhill street took part in the laurel chain yesterday when May Day pageantry, the first ever to be conducted at the college, celebrated the 20th anniversary of Boston University.

Visit World's Fair

World's Fairing has already become popular with local vacationists and since its opening, has attracted Mrs. Percy Nutton and her daughter, Edna, of Carisbrooke street, Mary A. Collins of Chestnut street; Joseph and Jimmie Doherty of Harding street; Mrs. Walter Pike and her sons, Walter and John, of Lowell street; Mrs. Allison Morse of Summer street; and the recently married Mr. and Mrs. James J. McLaughlin. Miss Irma Deane left yesterday to enjoy a several days' visit.

Alice Nelligan of Chestnut street and Katherine Dolan of Avon street spent last week-end, from Friday to Monday, World's Fairing.

Among the visitors from Shawsheen to N. Y. recently were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Emmons of York street and their sons, Robert and Harry, Mr. and Mrs. William Trow of Lowell street and Charlotte Bowes, Mrs. Douglas Donald and Mr. and Mrs. Cherowbrier of Haverhill street.

Musicians' Club To Meet On Wednesday

The postponed meeting of the Andover Musicians' club will take place in Serlo Hall, Methuen, on Wednesday evening, May 17, at 8 o'clock. A special feature of the program will be several numbers for combined organ and piano. Friends of the organization will be cordially welcome.

Andover Artists In Gallery Exhibit

On May 13 the Addison Gallery of American Art, Phillips Academy, will open an exhibition of contemporary water colors, "The New England Artists Interpret the New England Scene." This exhibition is one of a series arranged by eight New England museums to illustrate New England art of the past and present.

The water color tradition of Winslow Homer, Maurice Prendergast, and Dodge MacKnight continues to flourish in the work of contemporary painters. In this exhibition, water colors by thirty-two artists show a wide range of interests and techniques in the interpretation of New England landscapes, cities, and sea. Several painters of local interest are included in the exhibition: Alicia Atkinson (Mrs. G. C. Waterston), North Andover; Sidney M. Chase, Haverhill; Howard A. Coon, Andover; Bartlett H. Hayes, Jr., Andover and Winfield Scott Thomas, Haverhill.

The exhibitions of the other museums which are contributing to this series of New England Art include: Boston Museum of Fine Arts, "Painting, Drawing, and Prints from Private Collections in New England"; Boston Institute of Modern Art, "Contemporary New England Oil Paintings"; Fogg Art Museum, Harvard University, "New England Genre"; Gallery of Fine Arts, Yale University, "New England Silversmiths"; Lyman Museum, New London, "New England Architecture of Three Centuries"; Rhode Island School of Design, Providence, "Architecture of Rhode Island 1650-1939"; and the Worcester Art Museum, "Early New Print Makers."

Slattery Class To Hold Mother And Daughter Banquet

The annual Mother and Daughter banquet of the Margaret Slattery class of the Free church will be held May 16th in the parish house. A catered supper will be served at 6:30, with an entertainment to follow. All mothers and daughters of the church are invited. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the class.

Valley League Develops Into Race Between Punchard And Johnson

By virtue of a one-sided 33 to 6 victory over Howe high school on Tuesday Johnson high has passed Punchard in the standing in the Merrimack Valley suburban league. Neither club has been defeated as yet, but Johnson has four victories to three for Punchard. As was the case last season, the league is developing into a two-club race between Johnson and Punchard, with Methuen and Chelmsford being the only other possibilities. Wilmington, Tewksbury and Howe have been outclassed so far. In all probability, Chelmsford and Methuen will be able to do little more than threaten the leaders.

With two good days of practice this week, the local team will be able to smooth off some of the edges. Coach Lovely has had his first real opportunity to give the boys some real batting practice, and several of the players are driving the ball for distances. The pitching staff has held together so far, and Proctor, a fine pitcher, has not been needed thus far, with the result that he has been doing all of the catching. In addition, he is leading the club in batting. The infield, weakened for a time by the loss of White, is now rounding into shape, with Burnham, a sophomore outfielder, filling in capably. McLauchlan at third is hitting the ball harder as the pitching gets faster. His recent home run at Wilmington was a line drive over the leftfielder's head into the swamp. Bill Anderson in center field is proving a valuable man, with eight passes in three games.

The standing: (including games played Tuesday)

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Johnson	4	0	1.000
Punchard	3	0	1.000
Chelmsford	3	2	.600
Methuen	3	2	.600
Wilmington	1	3	.250
Tewksbury	0	3	.000
Howe	0	4	.000

Punchard Scores Eight In Sixth To Beat Jayvees

Scoring most of their runs and all of their hits in one big inning, the Punchard high school baseball team defeated the Phillips academy junior varsity at the playstead yesterday: 9 to 4. Held hitless for five innings while the visitors were piling up a three run lead in the first two stanzas, the Punchard boys piled up eight runs in the sixth to win the game.

After Ferguson was batted out of the box in the third, Warren Deyermund stopped the academy team cold until the ninth inning, when he eased up with a commanding lead. Meanwhile the high school boys came through in the fourth with one run when Bob Burnham walked, and circled the diamond on three stolen bases.

Tom Noyes led off the last of the sixth with a two base hit, and ten men followed him to bat. Five hits, three walks and two errors accounted for eight runs and the ball game.

Academy Pitchers Have Good Week

Seven hits and 26 strikeouts by two opponents in 20 innings—from the pitching angle Phillips academy had a very good week. Yesterday afternoon Hal Chase pitched his first full-length game, with Deerfield going down 5-1 behind his three hit, ten strikeout pitching. A pass, a single, and Junie O'Brien's double to left center accounted for the Andover victory.

On Saturday at South Byfield, Patsy Donovan showed that he had another pitcher to add to his Phelan-Chase staff. It was Ed Lanigan, center-fielder in the opening game, who fanned 16 and allowed but four hits as Andover won from Governor Dummer 3 to 1 in 11 innings. The Andover nemesis for a while was Koslowski, Governor's pitcher, who didn't allow a single hit until the eighth. He fanned 13 and walked four, with four hits being made in the last few innings, but in the final session made a fatal balk with three men on.

Shawsheen Tennis Team Goes Into Second Position

Shawsheen's tennis team started off its season on Sunday with a 5-1 victory over Amesbury, earning a second place in the valley league when Haverhill managed to garner six points against Wakefield.

The singles matches resulted as follows: Ken Butler defeated Cyrus Zeidman, 6-1, 6-0; Roland Bretton defeated Lou Senechal, 6-3, 6-2; Ralph Hadley beat Sam Fossman, 6-2, 6-3; and Richard Simmers beat Bernard Zeidman, 6-3, 6-4. In the doubles B. Zeidman and Senechal of Amesbury, defeated Butler and Sparks, 6-4, 6-4, while Butler and William Renny of Shawsheen defeated C. Zeidman and Fossman, 6-0 and 6-2.

Don't forget the benefit wrestling show to be held in the Memorial Auditorium, May 27, at 8:15. The Andover Square and Compass club is running it under the management of president Rowland L. Luce for a very good cause. The public is urged to attend.

Country Club Still In Lead

The Andover Country Club four-ball team increased its lead in the Northeastern league Sunday, defeating the Merrimack Valley golfers 8 to 4. Mt. Pleasant defeated Vesper to remain in second place, 3½ points behind the Andover team.

Fire Drives Out Family Of Eleven

The inset above shows firemen inspecting the barn-garage at the rear of the house. An automobile in the barn was driven aflame out into the yard.

The alarm sounded shortly after 12:30, Mr. Nicoll having discovered the blaze about a half-hour after returning from his work in the Shawsheen mill. The family was removed to the Keating home after the Vale truck arrived, followed shortly by two pieces from the Center.

LIBRARIAN RETIRES

The present Junior Room with its attractive furnishings and trained children's librarian had its origin in a children's corner established very early in Miss Brown's administration in one end of the old reading room.

A branch library in Ballardvale with a local librarian was started in 1914 with a loan of books from the main library. A small permanent collection of books had been added to constantly by purchase and loan and similar loan collections are deposited in convenient places for the more distant parts of the town.

In 1926 the main library building was enlarged and remodeled. Perhaps everyone does not remember the temporary quarters in the Lower Town Hall and the Children's library in a vacant store opposite where Miss Brown and her loyal staff carried on for a year in incredibly crowded quarters.

After the return to the present library building, the expansion was in every way remarkable. The circulation of books in 190, the year after Miss Brown came, was 28,705; in 1938, it had increased to 99,440. Miss Brown began her work with one untrained assistant. She now has a staff of six, all with library training and experience.

In 1938, a library was established in the Junior High School. Books are lent from the main library and it is open daily under the supervision of the Junior Librarian. This has proved a most valuable asset to the town.

Has Written Books

Miss Brown's avocations have closely followed her professional interests and she has published a number of charming books for children as well as two full-sized novels. A list of her writings includes the following:

Adult Fiction

That Affair at St. Peter's	1920
Journey's End	1921

For Boys and Girls

Four Gordons	1911
Uncle David's Boys	1913
When Max Came	1914
Arnold's Little Brother	1915
Archer and the Prophet	1916
The Spanish Chest	1917
At the Butterfly House	1918
Rainbow Island	1919
Robin Hollow	1914

For Younger Readers

The Silver Bear	1921
The Chinese Kitten	1922
Whistling Rock	1923
Three Gates	1928
Polly's Shop	1931

Miss Brown also wrote a short sketch of the history of Andover (condensed from Miss Bailey's History of Andover) for the use of the young folks who have an annual assignment for their first written work in the High School of an historical sketch of Andover. It was published originally in the Andover Townsman and is pasted in a multitude of scrap books. It is an excellent piece of work. All Miss Brown's Juveniles are recognized by the American Library Association and several have been put on State Reading Lists.

It is with deep appreciation of Miss Brown's long service to the town and of her solid achievements in the development of the Library that the Trustees have gone about to secure her successor. At a special meeting of the Trustees held Tuesday, Miss Miriam Putnam of Cambridge was unanimously elected Librarian. Miss Putnam was born in 1903, graduated from Radcliffe College in 1925 and received her B.S. in Library Science at Columbia in 1935 following four summers of study. Except for one year (1929-1930) spent at the Bookshop for boys and girls and in foreign travel, she has been in the Newton Public Library. For three years she was in charge of the branch department and she is at present head-cataloguer and reader's guide to boys and girls of high school age. She is a member of the Book Review Club and secretary of the Massachusetts Library Association.

No better tribute could be given to Miss Brown than to have her own friendly relations with the Andover public extended to her successor thus conserving to the town an unbroken tradition of intelligent, quietly efficient book service. As Miss Brown retires into a busy leisure here among us she carries with her the affectionate good wishes of her fellow townsmen and their sincere gratitude for her devotion to their interests.

Miss Elsie Stevens and Mrs. Carlton White of Dedham spent Thursday with the latter's sister, Mrs. Clayton Northey of Rocky Hill road.

Legion To Present

Clipper Pictures

On May 26, the American Legion will present to Principal Kenneth L. Sherman four fine pictures of clipper ships to be hung in the study room of the Junior High school. The Legion voted a sum of $100 at the meeting last Thursday to be used for the purchase. Mr. Sherman, H. Garrison Holt, Herman Hilton and William A. Buchan were on the committee for the selection.

A further sum of $10 was voted to add to the $30 already donated to the schoolboy patrol fund.

Navy Recruiting

Officer In Talk

Chief Signalman Penland, United States Navy recruiting officer at the Haverhill station, gave a very interesting educational talk to the Punchard boys, Monday, during the utility period. Chief Penland's talk was supplemented by several short moving pictures on the work of the Navy, following which the recruiting officer answered the numerous questions that the boys asked him pertaining to the service. One of the outstanding points emphasized by the officer was that the boys should take hold of every available opportunity for education that is being offered them if they wish to succeed in the Navy or any other walk of life, and that the Navy, which is a fine school itself, wants only the trained or educated man or boy, one who is willing and able to learn and to do the work for which he is trained.
